Global capability and scale

Recognized as one of Microsoft's few global full-service partners. We have the coveted status of Microsoft Global Systems Integrator.

Leadership in technological innovation

Over 15,000 Microsoft certifications. We ensure our clients receive cutting-edge solutions tailored to their evolving needs.

We work with our clients to:

- Meet the demand for AI innovation while managing the complexities of cloud infrastructure
- Increase Azure consumption to grow revenue and improve customer retention
- Maximize profitability through effective license resell strategies
- Elevate customer and employee experience to stay competitive and attract talent

How we deliver

NTT DATA's commitment to AI innovation is fully aligned with Microsoft's agenda. We deliver end-to-end solutions, including license resell, that enable revenue growth for our clients across global markets.

Together with Microsoft, we create and sell unique solutions based on Microsoft technology, spanning applications, hosting and networks, to give our clients the edge in dynamic cloud and AI landscape. We are one of the first partners to launch offerings for Copilot for Microsoft 365. We manage and optimise the performance of applications to better enable employee collaboration and customer communication. And our globally diverse workforce is right where you need us, anywhere in the world.

Our partnership in action

Cubic is on a digital transformation journey to make their own systems more efficient so they can focus on the technology solutions they offer their customers. Incorporating their Microsoft Azure and other Microsoft subscriptions into a single Enterprise Agreement has made management easier and lowered their overall licensing spend. As part of optimizing their telecommunications and communication, they migrated to Teams. The first phase of their transformation project has resulted in simplified and consolidated systems – as well as significant and ongoing cost savings for the company.

“The ultimate reason we selected NTT was the ease of doing business. Their global reach and ability to help us scale and automate the delivery of our products and services has been a game changer.”

Dan Hedstrom, Vice President and Chief Information Officer, Cubic
